

FAVORS POPE'S PEACE PROPOSALS

Austrian Emperor Ready To Enter Into Negotiations

REPLY MADE PUBLIC

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 21.—Peace would come from the recent proposals of Pope Benedict if the belligerent nations would enter into negotiations in the sense of the pontiff's suggestions, Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary says in his reply to the Vatican note. The emperor sees in the pope's peace plan a suitable basis for starting negotiations toward a just and lasting peace and hopes the nation's opposing his own may be animated by the same idea.

The Austrian emperor admits that the future arrangement of the world must be based on the elimination of armed force and on the rule of international justice and legality. The pope's idea of negotiations between the belligerents for an understanding for simultaneous and reciprocal reductions of armaments on land and sea and in the air by which the high seas, which rightfully belong to all nations will be opened equally to the use of all, is supported by Emperor Charles.

Austria is prepared, the reply states, to enter into negotiations for the submission of international disputes to compulsory arbitration.

Austria-Hungary's ruler received the pontiff's note with thankfulness and with an expression of hope that the pontiff's efforts may lead to the realization of the emperor's desire for a lasting and honorable peace for all parties.

Freedom of the seas is one of the peace hopes of Emperor Charles in order that heavy material burdens could be taken from the nations of the earth and new sources of prosperity opened to them.

The reply, received here in a despatch from Vienna, was handed to Monsignor T. Valfré di Bonzo, the papal nuncio at Vienna, on Thursday. The text of the reply follows:

Text of Note.
"Holy Father:
"With due veneration and deep emotion we take cognizance of the new representations your holiness, in fulfillment of the holy office entrusted you by God, make to us and the heads of the other belligerent states with the noble intention of leading the heavily tried nations to a unity that will restore peace to them.
"With a thankful heart we received this fresh gift of fatherly care which you, holy father, always bestow on all peoples without distinction, and from the depth of our heart we greet the moving exhortation which your holiness has addressed to the governments of the belligerent peoples. During this cruel war we have always looked up to your holiness as to the highest personage who, in virtue of his mission which reaches beyond earthly things and thanks to the high conception of his duties laid upon him, stands high above the belligerent peoples and who is inaccessible to all influence, was able to find a way which may lead to the realization of our own desire for peace, lasting and honorable for all parties.
"Since ascending the throne of our ancestors and fully conscious of the responsibility which we bear before God and man for the fate of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, we have never lost sight of the high aim of restoring to our peoples as speedily as possible the blessings of peace. Soon after our accession to the throne it was vouchsafed us in common with our allies to undertake a step which had been considered and prepared by our exalted predecessor, Francis Joseph, to pave the way for a lasting and honorable peace. We gave expression to this desire in a speech from the throne delivered at the opening of the Austrian reichsrath thereby showing that we are striving after a peace that shall free the future life of the nation from rancor and a thirst for revenge and that shall secure them for generations to come from the employment of armed forces. Our joint government has in the meantime not failed in repeated and emphatic declarations, which could be heard by all the world, to give expression to our own will and that of the Austro-Hungarian peoples to prepare an end to bloodshed by a peace such as your holiness has in mind.
"Happy in the thought that our desires from the first were directed toward the same object which your holiness today characterizes as one we strive for we have taken into close consideration the concrete and practical suggestions of your holiness and have come to the following conclusions:
"Agree with idea.
"With deep rooted conviction we agree to the leading idea of your holiness that the future arrangement of the world must be based on the elimination of armed force and on the rule of international justice and legality. We too are imbued with the hope that a strengthening of the sense of right would morally regen-

VISCOUNT ISHII TALKS TO NATIONAL PRESS CLUB

Head of Japanese Mission to U. S. Assails Kaiser

Asserts German Intrigue and Propaganda Cleverly Applied in Both Countries Have Prevented Full Understanding Between America and Japan.

Washington, Sept. 21.—German intrigue and propaganda cleverly applied in both countries have prevented a full understanding between America and Japan, Viscount Ishii, head of the Japanese mission to the United States declared in an address here tonight at the National Press Club. The Zimmermann note to Mexico involving Japan gave a clue to the secret agencies at work to part the east and the west, the viscount said, but even this diplomatic "blunder" by Berlin gave a check only for a time.

"Since then the agents have been hard at work," the viscount continued. "They were at work yesterday and they are at work today. Every prejudice, every sympathy every available argument has been used to show your people and to ours what a cunning enemy we have each in the other and how much dependent we are upon the future friendship, support and good will of Germany."

Gives Piece of Secret History.
Viscount Ishii said that in all countries today fraud, deception, treachery, and all the forces of evil are wearing disguises most difficult to penetrate and that he regretted deeply to say that owing to this difficulty the newspapers in America and Japan inadvertently he believed had delayed the "inevitable full understanding" between the two countries. The viscount gave what he called a "piece of secret history" showing what he said was proof that to Japanese an armed conflict with America is unthinkable.

He said:
"When it became known to us that the American and British governments were alike desirous of entering into a general treaty of arbitration, but that they always found the making of such a treaty was precluded by the terms of the British alliance with Japan as they then stood, it was not with the consent of Japan, but it was because of Japan's offer that the stipulations of the alliance were revised so that no obstacle might be put in the way of the proposed treaty. As you know, article 4 of the new Anglo-Japanese treaty now in effect excludes the United States from its operation. This is a true account of the genesis of that clause. It was Japan's own idea—her own contribution to the cause of universal peace."

Discusses German Attempts.
Discussing German attempts to inspire distrust of Japanese the viscount said:
"For more than ten years a propaganda has been carried on in this country, in Japan and thruout the world for the sole purpose of keeping nations of far east and far west as far apart as possible to create distrust, suspicion and unkindly feeling that Germany might secure advantage in the confusion. The world was flooded with tales of Japan's military aspirations and Japan's duplicity. Have these been borne out by history? Even now the German publicity agent whispers first in your ear and then in mine. To the accompaniment of appeals to the human heart, he tells me stories of your duplicity and to you of mine."

MINISTER'S WIFE ON WITNESS STAND

RED OAK, Ia., Sept. 21.—Mrs. Laura Kelly testified today in the trial of her husband, the Rev. Lyn George J. Kelly charged with complicity in the Villisca ax murders. "Where do you live?" the prosecutor asked her. "I returned. No place, now," she returned. "My husband is thirty years old. She married the defendant in England 12 years ago and came to Iowa five years ago. She told of her husband's departure on the afternoon of the day preceding the Villisca tragedy. She packed his grip she said and it contained no clothing nor night clothing. "It had nothing but theological books and some toilet articles," she said.

Judge Boles today disqualified fifteen witnesses for the defense who were to have given testimony to direct the guilt of the murders to another man. All were witnesses in the Jones-Wilkerson slander suit.

SOLDIER RUSHING HOME TO SAVE MOTHER

DECATUR, Ill., Sept. 21.—By special dispensation of the war department Private Harold Burley of Company L, Fifth Regiment, Illinois National Guard, stationed at Houston, Tex., is rushing to his home in Decatur to save his mother from death. Mrs. Burley has been asleep almost continuously for the past two weeks, her condition being brought on by worry over the safety of her boy.

Mrs. Burley has been unable to stay awake long enough to take any nourishment and she talks about her son in her sleep. Physicians believe that if her son can reach home in time she may awaken.

LOWDEN SPEAKS AT SEYMOUR

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 21.—Governor Lowden left on a special car over the Illinois Traction System this morning for Seymour, near Champaign, where he will speak today at a picnic given by B. F. Harris of Champaign, a member of the state council of defense. The governor was accompanied by Mrs. Lowden.

REFUSES TO REPORT TO CANTONEMENTS

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Hans Stein, 28 years old who was drafted and ordered to report to the government cantonment at Rockford, Ill., suddenly decided that he would not obey the call to arms. He met the 80 other drafted men from his district on the north side and had entered an automobile and was on his way to the railway station when he told a companion that he had decided not to go to Rockford.

"I am an Austrian and have three brothers now fighting in the Austrian army and I am not going to fight against my own brothers," he shouted as he attempted to leave the automobile. He was taken into custody by federal agents.

GERMANY FURNISHES I. W. W. WITH MONEY

Used for Purchasing Arms, Ammunition and Supplies

Testimony of German Plotting Given in Federal Court at Trial of Eleven Alleged Draft Resistors in Oklahoma—Many Implicated.

Enid, Okla., Sept. 21.—Money procured from agents of the German government and disbursed thru headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World at Chicago was used to purchase arms, ammunition and supplies for the Working Class Union, "Jones family" and kindred organizations said to number forty or more with a membership of approximately 2,000,000 according to testimony in federal court here today in the trial of eleven alleged draft resistors from Pottawatomie and Cleveland counties.

J. C. Holmes, who said he was a government agent testified he had joined the working class union in Pottawatomie county last May on the advice of a recruiting officer. Officers high in the councils of the working class union Holmes said told members of the organization that thru the I. W. W. and affiliated bodies draft resistors would be plentifully supplied with arms and ammunition, purchased with German money.

Recruiting activity of the working class union, he testified, dated from the passage of the selective draft act and leaders seemed well supplied with money and presented comprehensive plans for resisting the draft thru appeals to the ignorant classes among which they worked.

"Rube" Munson, in federal jail at Muskogee, was the state organizer of the working class union with headquarters at Salisaw, Holmes testified. The organization was effectually broken up in August by arrest of approximately 500 draft resistors in central Oklahoma, 300 of whom still are in jails and penitentiaries. Following the attempt at suicide today of J. C. Herrod, an elderly man, summoned as a government witness, and said to be a member of the anti-draft organization other state witnesses seemed struck with fear. Scott Mitchell called by the prosecution repudiated testimony he had given before a United States commissioner in Oklahoma.

MUCH INTEREST IN CONGRESS MEETING

PETROGRAD, Sept. 20.—Russia's political question of immediate interest is the democratic congress summoned by the central soldiers' and workmen's council, which is to meet in Petrograd on Sept. 25, and which is proclaimed as of more importance than the recent congress at Moscow. The program of the congress is to settle the question of organization or authority which will lead the country to a constituent assembly. That means to settle the cabinet question and to constitute a parliament to which the cabinet will be responsible.

It is virtually certain that Premier Kerensky will address the congress as he still is a member of the central council of soldiers' and workmen's deputies, but he may do so in that capacity and not as prime minister.

BRITISH HOLD VALUABLE POSITIONS

Important Ground Taken In Drive Keystone of German Defenses

SITUATION UNCHANGED

BRITISH FRONT in France and Belgium, Sept. 21.—This morning found the British still holding strongly important positions wrested from the Germans. The consolidating process effected in the night was facilitated by the British artillery, which prevented the Germans from bringing up reserves. The importance of the new ground won is that it is high ground taking in the ridge on which the Anzac flag now flies, extending southward and constituting the keystone of the German defenses here. Over this the onrushing British yesterday swept with irresistible force. Aside from the operation southwest of Gheluvelt the situation today south of the Anzac stronghold was virtually unchanged. The Germans shelled the left of this front heavily during the night and showed considerable activity also immediately to the north. In the day's success many parts of the empire were represented. Australia, South Africa, England and Scotland, all gave of their magnificent troops which pushed out across the inhospitable marsh lands and battled their way thru concrete machine gun emplacements and redoubts.

The whole operation was a remarkable demonstration of what organization, backed with plenty of big guns can accomplish.

In reply to the peace proposals of Pope Benedict, the German and Austro-Hungarian governments express hope that his efforts may bring cessation of hostilities. Emperor William "cherishes a lively desire" that the vatican appeal may meet with success. Germany's reply is written by a member of the emperor's entourage, that of Austria-Hungary is a personal letter from Emperor Charles. Both notes were made public almost simultaneously and both follow the same general trend.

Emperor Charles declares the pope's "proposals will lead to peace if the belligerent nations would enter into negotiations in the sense of the pontiff's suggestions" in which he sees a suitable basis for initiating exchanges toward a just and lasting peace. He expresses the hope that the opposing belligerents may be animated by the same idea.

The future arrangement of the world, the emperor says, must be based on the elimination of armed force, the freedom of the seas and on the rule of international justice and legality.

Emperor William has been following the efforts of Pope Benedict toward peace with "high respects and sincere" gratitude. The German reply designates the pope's note as an "emphatic peace appeal."

Meanwhile the opposing armies still are busy from the North Sea to Switzerland and in the west from the Baltic to the Black Sea in the east in Macedonia and in the Austro-Italian mountains to the Adriatic. In Flanders, however, the activity is not intense.

Field Marshal Haig has made complete his latest success and his men are holding tight to the new positions taken from the Germans on Thursday. Crown Prince Rupprecht hurled counter-attacks against the new British lines but the Britishers held on firmly to their gains. Berlin officially admits that the British effort was successful and that the Germans were forced to evacuate some of their defenses in the vital Ypres salient, but it attempts to minimize the importance of the advance. The British losses in the assault are reported to have been light.

On the southern end of the western front the German Crown Prince has suffered severe losses in an unsuccessful attack on Mont Haut in Champagne. Other attacks by the Germans on the Aisne front and near Verdun were repelled by the French. There has been no marked fighting activity on the eastern front.

General Alexieff, chief of staff to Premier Kerensky, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, has resigned. Differences between the two men over matters appertaining to the Korniloff revolt are given as the reason.

In an attack at Cima Sief, in the Dolomite Alps the Italians gained the enemy defenses. The impossibility of securing shelter, however, forced the Italians to retire. The Argentine chamber of deputies has postponed until Saturday action in matter of the Republic's relation with Germany. The foreign ministry has received new information which probably will compel Argentina to take grave and rapid measures, including possibility of declaration of war against Germany.

APPROPRIATE LARGE SUM TO BUILD HARD ROAD

Ottawa, Ill., Sept. 21.—The board of supervisors of LaSalle county today appropriated $187,625 for the construction of its share of a hard road from Springfield to Chicago to be known as the Ivy Trail. The board also appropriated $77,600 for the erection of a county tuberculosis sanitarium.

REICHSTAG MEMBER BELIEVES PEACE NEAR

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 21.—The Politiken today prints an interview with Herr Leube, Liberal member of the German Reichstag, in which he says he is convinced that the German reply to the peace note of Pope Benedict, which was unanimously adopted, will be couched in terms in accordance with the peace resolution adopted by the Reichstag majority on July 19.

Herr Leube declares that he and most of the German Liberals and Socialists consider that the annexation of Belgium or the exercise of control over it would be stupid. The German reply to the pope, Herr Leube believes, will promote the bringing about of peace.

CAMPAIGN STARTED TO RAISE Y. M. C. A. FUNDS

$35,000,000 Wanted To Carry On War Work

First Big Drive to Obtain Contributions Will Be Made From Nov. 11 to 19—Large Sums Needed for Rapidly Growing War Abroad.

New York, Sept. 21.—A campaign to raise $35,000,000 by July 1, 1918, to carry out the vast work of the Young Men's Christian Association at home and abroad, was started at a meeting here today of the national war work council of the association. The first big drive to obtain contributions will be made Nov. 11 to 19 which has been designated as "national campaign week." National, department and state campaign committees will be named to assist the efforts. This sum is needed, an announcement from the council said to cover the work in 394 buildings and 116 tents maintained for the soldiers and sailors in camps and cantonments and naval stations in the United States for the rapidly growing work in France and England among the expeditionary troops and for the association work for the armies in France, Russia and Italy, now called for by the military leaders of those nations.

In addition there are American workers with the armies in British East Africa, Egypt, Palestine and Mesopotamia, besides the association secretaries serving in prison camps in the allied countries all the way from England to Turkestan and Eastern Siberia who must be supported. The main items of the war work budget worked out today include $11,120,000 for United States troops in this country; $11,994,000 for United States troops overseas; $3,305,000 for Russian troops; $2,649,000 for French troops and $1,000,000 each for the Italian army and prisoners of war.

The association's annual budget heretofore has been about $4,000,000. George W. Perkins, chairman of the finance committee, announced to the committee today that of the $5,358,000 already subscribed to the national war work councils activities $4,065,858 had been paid in up to Sept. 20. The bureau of personnel reported that over 10,000 men have without solicitation applied for war work service. Of thousands of others have responded to a direct personal appeal to take up the work.

INVESTIGATING CAUSE OF KING SHOOTING

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—With three troops of detectives found here and accompanied by Dr. Otto Schultze, the district attorney's medical expert and Detective Jones, pistol expert of the police department, assistant district Attorney Dooling left today for Concord, N. C., to co-operate with the authorities there in investigating the mysterious shooting at Concord on Aug. 20 of Mrs. Maude A. King. A telegram was received by the district attorney from Hayden Clemm, state's attorney there asking that the most important documentary evidence be sent with Dooling. The documents were for the most part found in the apartment here of Gaston B. Means, Mrs. King's business adviser.

EMPEROR WILLIAM ON WAY TO SOFIA

LONDON, Sept. 21.—A despatch today by the British admiralty thru the wireless Press says: Emperor William has passed thru Budapest, Hungary, on his way to Sofia, the Bulgarian capital. ## MAJOR GENERAL SCOTT RETIRE FROM OFFICE

Succeeded By Major Tasker H. Bliss

Veteran Has Reached Age of Retirement, But Will Immediately Be Called to Active Service to Help Train U. S. Troops in U. S.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Major Tasker H. Bliss, today was named chief of staff of the army to succeed Major General Hugh L. Scott who retires from office tomorrow.

General Scott who is 64 years old, has reached the age of retirement, but he immediately will be called to active service and for the present will be assigned to duty in connection with training of troops in the United States.

General Bliss has been acting chief of staff since General Scott left for Russia several months ago as a member of the American mission. He also will reach the age of retirement on Dec. 31, next, but before his appointment today there were intimations he would remain as chief of staff for at least those three months.

General Scott's assignment to duty in connection with the training of troops, it is believed will be followed by his appointment to a field command, possibly a division at the front. He has eagerly sought such a command. Possibly his services may be found valuable as a connecting link between the training camps in France and in the United States.

Native of Kentucky

General Scott, a native of Kentucky was graduated from West Point in 1872 and has had an unusual career. Much of his active service has been spent in the Indian country but he also won fame in the Philippine insurrection and several times achieved remarkable results as a peace maker. In 1915 he negotiated an agreement with the battling factions in Mexico which protected the American border town of Nogales from the fall of shells and bullets. The arrangement was made with General Villa then a revolutionary leader and General Calles, of the Carranza forces. When the Piute Indians in Utah took the war trail two years ago to protect one of their number from arrest and battles with posses had been fought. General Scott journeyed thru the snow to the Indian mountain stronghold accompanied only by an orderly, and induced the accused chief to return with him and surrender. The only promise the general made was that there should be a fair trial. The bloodless outcome of that incident was due solely to the trust the Indians imposed in Scott.

Student of Military History

General Bliss has been a deep student of military history. He was appointed to West Point from Pennsylvania, graduating in 1871 and was an honor graduate of the artillery school in the class of 1884. His first assignment to the general staff was in 1903 and he is now serving his third appointment to that important body.

ADMITTS HAVING RECEIVED MONEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 21. Admission that he had received money at various times from "a defense league" was made by F. E. Rigall of Grayville, Ill., on cross-examination today in the trial of Frank C. Oxman, charged with having sought to bribe Rigall to testify falsely against Thomas J. Mooney, under sentences of death for one of the bomb murders here in July, 1916. The defense of Mooney and other defendants in the bomb murder cases was financed largely by the International Workers Defense league. This money was paid Rigall thru his attorney, Claude O. Ellis, who accompanied him here from Grayville, Rigall testified. Amounts of the total paid him was not brought out.

GOVERNMENT REVEALS GERMAN PLOTTING

Effort Made By Bernstorff To Influence Congress With Money

ASK FOR INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The American government's spotlight revealing German intrigue in neutral lands turned today on expenditure of money by the Berlin foreign office in an effort to influence congress on the eve of submarine campaign which drove the United States to war.

Secretary Lansing made public without comment the text of a message sent by Count Von Bernstorff to Berlin last January asking authority to use $20,000 to influence congress thru an organization, which the foreign office was reminded had performed similar service. To supplement this move, Von Bernstorff suggested an official declaration in favor of Ireland for its effect here. The organization to be employed was not named in the message and Mr. Lansing did not discuss its identity. It was freely suggested among officials however, that it was one of the various societies which flooded members of the house and senate with peace messages when President Wilson was asking that a state of war be proclaimed.

Amazing Story Begun

This disclosure adds another chapter to the amazing story begun with publication of the famous Zimmermann note in which Germany proposed an alliance with Mexico and Japan against the United States and which has included the German-Swedish breaches of neutrality in Argentina and Mexico. It connects the German government and Count Von Bernstorff directly and conclusively with machinations which the American public has assumed was a plot by German agents to stir up a world wide Tontine intrigue, but which many people firmly believed were carried on or financed in this country by German Americans without authority from Berlin. There was some talk today at the capitol of an investigation. Senator Overman, chairman of the senate lobby committee and Representative Flood, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee arranged to go to the state department tomorrow and ask for further information. A plan from the floor and galleries greeted Representative Hefflin's demand in the house today for a congressional investigation of the Von Bernstorff message to determine if any members of either house had received German money.

Hefflin Makes Statement

"I don't know to whom the count refers," he said, "but I do know that the contents of his message constitute a serious reflection upon congress and should be investigated. If permitted it could name thirteen or fourteen men in the two bodies who have acted suspiciously. If a member has acted suspiciously in or out of congress he ought to be investigated and expelled if the facts warrant. If any member is not giving his hearty support to the commander-in-chief in this time of war, he should be put out of the capitol."

Message Sent Early

The Von Bernstorff message dated January 22nd was sent nine days before the German government proclaimed its unrestricted submarine warfare. When he wrote it Count Von Bernstorff was assuring the American government and press that under no circumstances would Germany violate her pledges of the Sussex case or do anything that might draw the United States into the list of her enemies. Two weeks later, when Von Bernstorff was handed his passports, he professed ignorance of prior knowledge of his government's intentions to throw its promises to the winds.

Evidence has been accumulating to prove that the ambassador actually directed the activities of Boy-Ed and Von Papan, the military and naval attaches who were sent home long before the United States broke relations with Germany because of passport frauds, spying and other phases of the almost unlimited operations in this country of the German secret agents. It was intimated by government officials today that the revelations are not yet complete but official repudiation was given a suggestion that a diplomat now in Washington is about to be placed under the spotlight.

THE AUTO AS AN INVESTMENT.

The time was not so very long ago when the automobile was looked upon as a luxury and now it is counted as a necessity—an investment. This status has been given the automobile by no less an authority than the government, for a loan was recently made by a farm loan bank in Oregon to enable a farmer to purchase an automobile. The case of this farmer was that in the case of this farmer the automobile was an important part of his farm equipment and would tend to economy and efficiency of his farm operations.

It was only a few years ago that it made the average farmer half mad to have automobiles come honking along the country road, scaring his horses and cattle. In those days the farmer somewhat grudgingly gave a share of the road to a passing automobile. Now that is all changed and as a farmer begins to "turn out" as soon as he hears the hum of the machinery or the sound of the horn. And usually he is in a car himself.

EVERYBODY WILL BE HEALTHY.

One of the optimistic thoughts about the war that the food experts are pushing is that the people will be healthier in the years to come. They base this rosy prophecy on the theory that the people now eat too much wheat bread, that the uses of corn and possibly other grain will become popular for bread, and will prove both more nutritious and much more healthful. So they argue that even after the war is over and wheat supply is again normal, that the people will cling to those habits of diet which have made them healthier and stronger. If one is to believe these "experts" about half of the human ills are due to the continued use of wheat bread. They say we are to grow healthier as we learn not only to eat bread made from other grains but also bread, and taboo that which has just been taken temptingly from the oven.

FORTIFYING AGAINST HUNGER.

The National Council of Defense is still urging women to can. Women of America have carried on a grand campaign of preparedness against the attack the forces of old General Hunger are expected to make this winter, it is announced at Washington. Charles Lathrop Pack (presumably a close relation to the famous "old Pack Method"), president of the National Emergency Food Garden commission, says that they have ready for the pantry shelves 460,000,000 jars of canned fruits and vegetables. Also there are large stores of dried fruits and vegetables. "The women of the country with patient toil have erected the greatest monument to freedom the world ever saw," Mr. Pack says. "Place those jars in a pyramid and you would need a guide to find the Washington monument, were that the center of the structure built of jars. As bricks those jars would double the fall of Niagara and leave a good sized Eiffel Tower to top off the work."

"As a fortress they speak more eloquently than any orator as to what the women are doing to rout hunger, the General who ultimately will win the war."

In that work of fortification against the country's enemies—Gen. Hunger allied with the Germans—the women of Illinois have done their share. Nevertheless, a sound bit of counsel to the housewives of the land is: While the fruits hold out to can, keep on canning. Ditto for the vegetables.

LOWDEN AND THE WAR.

(Quincy Journal.) One outstanding feature dwarfed all others in comparison. In Gov. Lowden's address at the banquet which opened the annual convention of the Illinois Bankers' association at the Masonic temple last night. It was: "We must win the war!"

The stress he placed upon the need of unity of action by labor and capital is apparent. Dissension between these two classes of industry has been growing in the past short time, and it appears that there is danger to the nation in a further widening of the breach.

The governor's appeal to the bankers to bring all their forces to bear toward the union of capital and labor is essentially a patriotic appeal. As he says, the bankers can do more toward bringing these great institutions together than any other industry in the world. The banker is in touch with both sides, has studied both sides of the question, and stands in a splendid position as a mediator between capital and labor.

"Capital alone cannot win the war; labor cannot win the war alone," declared the governor, speaking one of the most apparent truths that has ever been uttered in Quincy, or the state of Illinois. There must be a union between capital and labor. They must pull together as a well balanced team before there can be a hope of bringing this great struggle to a successful termination.

Labor cannot do all that is to be done in bringing the two classes together. Capital cannot do it all. The two must meet on common ground, "must sit in the same councils and on the same committees."

The governor gave out the impression in his address that a fast and lasting union of the workers and their employers is vital to save the world from a menace which would mean wreck and ruin to the business of all nations.

Gov. Lowden is a forceful speaker. He is in close touch with conditions brought on by the great world war, and has given close study to the question of labor and capital, and their part in winning a lasting victory. When he is called upon to speak on questions of such character, his hearers know in advance that he is going to tell them something worth listening to.

His address to the bankers' convention last night will go down in history as one of the most momentous ever delivered in Quincy. And that he has done a lasting service to our country is a forgone conclusion, for level-headed, conservative men such as successful bankers are and must be, cannot help but see the logic in his words; cannot help but see that to take his advice, to follow his urgings, means the salvation of the government and the salvation of their business, and we may expect the bankers to return to their home cities, determined to do their best to unite capital and labor and "see to it that the classes in the United States are abolished and that human brotherhood is established."

FARM ADVISOR LEADER MAY COME TO MORGAN

Services are Available for Conference if Desired—Government Wants An Advisor in Every County — Will Pay Half Cost.

As previously mentioned, splendid opportunity is now offered Morgan county to secure a farm advisor for the coming year. The government in its desire to stimulate production and thus increase the food supply, passed an appropriation which will make it possible to have an advisor in every county. It is understood that if the proper interest is shown here in the project that the district leader of county agents will come to the city next week and take the preliminary steps to co-operate with Morgan county farmers in the organization of a crop bureau, which will carry with it the services of an advisor.

An Advisor for Every County
Twenty-five counties in Illinois and about 1,400 thruout the U. S. now employ county advisors to assist farmers in planning rotations and increasing crop and livestock production. In practically every instance these advisors have been successful and the crop bureaus have been profitable to the farmers belonging to them. On account of the war congress appropriated funds to stimulate food production during the period and about $4,000,000 will be expended in the county advisor work during the next twelve months. Of this sum $140,000 will be available for Illinois. Whether or not Morgan county shares in this distribution is up to the farmers of the county.

The Annual Cost
Briefly stated, the cost of operating a farm bureau in a county of this size is about $5,000 a year. Under present conditions it will be possible to secure half of this amount from the government. The county board has authority under the law to aid with the fund. So by raising a fund not greater than $2,500 Morgan county farmers can secure an advisor. The government requirement here would be for at least 300 farmers to engage in the enterprise, as the results desired can only be obtained if many are actively interested. However, the services of a farm advisor would not be confined to members of the crop bureau, and if an advisor is secured his services will be available for every farmer in the county. Certainly some steps should be taken to have the district leader come to Jacksonville soon and confer with farmers.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

MR. MAN

Man walks through life with looted tread, and finds the going rough; through all his youth he looks ahead—the future is the stuff. He'll do great things in coming years, when he has half a show; his fame will ring through all the spheres and reach to Broken Bow. He's so impatient for the time when he can hit the spots, that youth, the golden and sublime, is gone before he wots. Youth, youth! It passes like the wind, and cannot be recalled; and man wakes up some day to find he's tired and old and bald. He sees the wreck of noble schemes, and murmurs, through his tears, "The plans of youth are idle dreams that won't outlive the years." Now he is always looking back, as once he gazed ahead; his eyes are in the ragged track that knew his hopeful tread. The future has no charms for him, it smiles for him no more; the past appeals to eyes grown dim, he talks of days of yore. Oh, youth, forevermore your gaze is fixed on things ahead; while age laments the vanished days, and sadly counts its dead.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY

September 22, 1849—Governorship of Oregon, declined by Mr. Marshal of Indiana, has been tendered to the Hon. Abraham Lincoln of Springfield, Mr. Lincoln being absent from home, we have no means of knowing for a certainty, whether he will accept it or not. Judging from what we know of Mr. Lincoln's present position, we are inclined to the opinion that he will decline the appointment.

MRS. PATTERSON DIES FROM INJURIES

Suffered Accident Tuesday Night—Death Occurs at Our Savior's Hospital.

Mrs. Stanton H. Patterson died at Our Savior's hospital about four o'clock Friday afternoon following an operation for a fractured skull which she sustained Tuesday evening near her home south of Patterson, Ill.

The deceased was formerly Miss Eliza Jane Wilkerson and was born Feb. 15, 1859. In 1889 she was married to Stanton H. Patterson and to this union there were born three children, who with their father survive. The children are Lucy, wife of Henry Ballard of Roodhouse; Lloyd H. Patterson of Patterson, and F. H. Patterson of Hillview.

Mrs. Patterson was a devout member of the Baptist church and was a woman with a host of friends. She was a loving wife and mother and her sudden calling is a shock to the entire community in which she resided and was best known.

Undertaker Fox of White Hall was notified of the death and conveyed the remains to her home last night. Coroner Charles E. Rose granted permission for the removal of the body, but owing to the strange manner in which Mrs. Patterson was injured she was sustained. It will be necessary to hold an inquest. This will probably take place in this city next Wednesday.

Robert H. Allan of Riggsdon was a visitor in Jacksonville Friday night.

BAND CANNOT COME

Late Friday afternoon a member of the Waverly band telephoned Mayor Rodgers that the members of the band would like to come to Jacksonville to march with the soldiers to the Chicago & Alton station, making no charge for the service. The mayor gladly accepted the offer but later came a message canceling the arrangement. Mr. Blood of the band and the director of the band and it seems that he had another engagement with which some of the members of the band were not familiar. The spirit of the Waverly band men was excellent but it so happened that they could not come at this time.

J. P. Johnson of the Pacific hotel has devised a banner and it is to be attached to the car or cars in feet long and below the letters are pictures of men charging with guns fully awakes to the fact that our for every member canvass between subscription. This is an excellent plan as it is asking a great deal of a few officers to see each and every person whose name should be on the subscription paper.

WILL RAISE BOOK FUND
FOR U. S. SOLDIERS

Citizens Met at Y. M. C. A. Friday to Discuss Plans for Campaign—
Work to Begin at Once.

About forty citizens met at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening at lunchoon to take up the matter of raising Jacksonville's share of the money needed by the War Service Committee of the American Library Association to furnish books for American soldiers.

After the luncheon a number of short talks were made by Mayor
Rodgers, Miller Weir, Dr. C. E.
Black, Miss Barrette, Mrs. Floreth and others. One thing brought out strongly was the general use of the libraries in military camps by the soldiers and the kind of books demanded. It was shown that while there were many books there was a scarcity of books of the kind that the men wanted to read. It has been found that they want books on aviation, engineering and other subjects that will help them with the work in hand.

After a general discussion during which a number of plans were suggested it was decided that the membership of the library board act as executive committee of the movement in Jacksonville. The general chairman Rev. W. E. Spooner was given power to select a committee of three for raising funds. The funds will be handled by the library board.

There was lots of enthusiasm shown at the gathering and there seemed to be no doubt but that the $1,000 allotted to Jacksonville would be raised. A definite plan will be formulated and the campaign begun the coming week.

FAVORS POPE'S PEACE PROPOSALS

erate humanity. We support therefore your holiness' view that the negotiations between the belligerents should and could lead to an understanding by which with the creation of appropriate guarantees armaments on land and sea and in the air, might be reduced simultaneously, reciprocally and gradually to a fixed limit and whereby the high seas which rightly belong to all the nations of the earth may be freed from domination or paramourcy and be opened equally for the use of all.

"Fully conscious of the importance of the promotion of peace on the method proposed by your holiness, namely, to submit international disputes to compulsory arbitration, we are also prepared to enter into negotiations regarding this proposal.

"If, as we most heartily desire, agreements should be arrived at between the belligerents which would realize this sublime idea and thereby give security to the Austro-Hungarian monarchy for its unhampered future development, it can then not be difficult to find a satisfactory solution to the other questions which still remain to be settled between the belligerents in a spirit of justice and of a reasonable consideration of the considerations for the existence of both parties.

Hope for Peace.

"If the nations of the earth were to enter with a desire for peace, into negotiations with one another in the sense of your holiness' proposals then the peace could blossom forth from them. The Nations could attain complete freedom of movement on the high seas, heavy material burdens could be taken from them and new sources of prosperity opened to them.

"Guided by a spirit of moderation and conciliation, we see in the proposals of your holiness a suitable basis for initiating negotiations with a view to preparing a peace, just to all and lasting, and we earnestly hope our present enemies may be animated by the same ideas. In this spirit we beg that the almighty bless the work of peace begun by your holiness."

PLAN TO PREVENT INDUSTRIAL EVILS

Announcement Made by Chairman Hurley of Federal Shipping Board—Will Call Conference of Shipbuilders.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The first indication that the government plans systematic action to discourage employers from enticing workmen from other plants, thus preventing industrial evils caused by large floating populations, came today in an announcement by Chairman Hurley of the federal shipping board that conferences of shipbuilders would be called soon to frame voluntary agreements on the subject. Labor disputes in Pacific Coast shipyards, causing suspension of the government building program constitute the immediate reason for this course. Application of the principle to other industries in all parts of the country have been considered, however.

Altho Mr. Hurley has not decided when he will call the first conference it is probable that it will be on the Pacific coast where a Seattle shipyard, by agreeing to a 33 percent wage increase has caused a movement of the best workmen to that plant and precipitated many demands for the same wage scale on companies making lower profits.

Labor men do not look with entire favor on the general plan. They recently received reports from British labor leaders on operation of a government enforced system in England where the enticing of workmen from one plant or industry to another is practically forbidden. It has been suggested that altho the American government has no such a power a similar result could be obtained in this country from voluntary agreements of employers. Developments in the Pacific coast situation today indicated that the problem there can be solved permanently only by a uniform scale of the shipyards of the entire coast.

COMMITTEE MAKES PROGRESS WITH BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Possibility of a final deadlock of senate and house conferees on the war tax bill was believed tonight to have been removed following progress made today on the disputed war excess profits provisions.

Taxation of war or excess profits was almost the exclusive subject of the day's conference, preceded by a special meeting of the house ways and means committee. Senator Simmons and Representative Kitchen stated tonight considerable progress was made tomorrow an agreement on defining invested capital which shall be subject to taxation and exemptions with the principal dispute remaining over exemption of or allowances in tangible assets including good will, copyright, patent and other inchoate property rights.

Increase in the total tax levy on excess profits is forecast from the conference room. Drastic increase on such profits was urged on the house conferees today by members of the ways and means committee who were told that big business interests were responsible for some of the senate insistence upon considering intangible assets as a part of invested capitalization.

Senator Simmons tonight denied published reports that Senator Underwood had been called before the conferees yesterday to give expert advice on the basis for figuring the value of intangible assets of corporations.

FRANKLIN STRONG FOR THE SOLDIERS

GAVE FINE ENTERTAINMENT AND SUPPER FRIDAY NIGHT.

Red Cross Made Plans for Celebration—Program of Patriotic Speeches Followed the Banquet—Soldiers in Farewell Words.

Franklin people paid due honor to the soldiers who will leave today with the Morgan county contingent for Camp Taylor, Ky. The celebration Friday night was planned by the executive committee of the Franklin Red Cross society and dozens of willing workers joined in the preparations. The banquet was served in the Red Cross headquarters with veterans of the Civil war and the new soldiers as the guests of honor. After the banquet a program was given in Olinger's hall nearby.

The audience which assembled filled the hall to overflowing for there were many people from the country around Franklin who came in to attend the reception. The committee in arranging for the banquet forgot nothing which could make up an appetizing menu. There were great quantities of good things to eat and attentive waiters watched carefully for the wants of each one at the tables.

Marched to Hall.

At the conclusion of the supper the soldiers old and young marched from Red Cross headquarters to the Olinger hall, led by the ladies' drum corps. This organization, which is directed by E. H. Wyatt, includes ten members. The young women play well and their contribution to the enthusiasm and patriotism of the evening was substantial.

The hall, like the banquet room, had been decorated with flowers and flags. M. B. Keplinger was the chairman of the evening and seated on the platform were the veterans and the new soldiers, together with various persons who were to take part in the program.

After the audience had joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" a prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Todd, pastor of the Christian church. Then a male quartet including Rev. J. N. Jerman, Rev. W. E. Keenan, W. E. Eador and Prof. Mounce, sang very effectively "Farewell Tonight on the Old Camp Ground." The first speaker was Rev. W. E. Keenan, the Methodist minister, who talked along patriotic lines, referring to the great issues involved in this war for humanity. He praised the young men for their patriotism and told them that great possibilities were theirs.

For Democracy and Liberty.

A solo was then sung by Rev. J. A. Betcher, pastor of the Alexander M. E. church, and then Father Andrew Smith, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic church, was introduced. It was very evident that Father Smith had devoted careful thought and study to his subject and that he was thoroughly familiar with the history of the war and present day conditions. In vivid language he pointed out the great role that is America's in this world conflict, and the necessity which led the U. S. step by step into this war in order that democracy and liberty might live. A tribute was paid to the prowess of American armies and to the strength of American character, and the speaker was so eloquently enthusiastic in his patriotic utterances that there were frequent interruptions with applause.

Rev. J. N. Jerman, another Methodist minister spoke somewhat briefly, dwelling upon the great need of the hour and the call for display of genuine patriotism on the part of every man, woman and child. Then Rev. Mr. Betcher favored the audience with another solo and Rev. Mr. Todd presented to the audience the new soldiers in whose honor the evening's program had been arranged. They are: Homer W. Seymour, Kenneth Cline, Chester Hart and Leslie Waters of Franklin, and William S. Rider and Walter D. Appleton of Alexander.

Rev. Mr. Betcher, Rev. Mr. Todd declared that in going to the front with willing spirit and courageous hearts, that the young men were not only honoring themselves but the home community. Chester Hart, replying for soldiers, expressed their appreciation for the honor shown them and said that he and his comrades would certainly go to the army camp with very pleasant memories of the last night in their home town.

The Final Farewell.

In concluding the program, M. B. Keplinger, the chairman, referred briefly to the program of Red Cross work and the intimate relation of this work to the welfare of soldiers. He spoke too, of the coming liberty loan and mentioned that as this loan the people would have opportunity to show their patriotism, for this great fund will help to finance the war not only for our own country but for our allies. Rev. Mr. Betcher pronounced the benediction and the impressive service was thus brought to a close, altho before leaving the hall nearly all in the audience stopped to shake hands with the men who are to leave for camp today. Altogether it was an intensely patriotic occasion.

WANT CLOSER RELATION

GERMAN REPLY SENT POPE BENEDICT

Cherishes Lively Desire That Appeal May Meet with Success.

Amsterdam, Sept. 21.—The German government in its reply to the peace note of Pope Benedict, a copy of which has been received here, cherishes a lively desire that the appeal may meet with success.

Emperor William the German note says has been following the efforts of the pope toward peace for a considerable time with high respect.

The text of the reply reads:

"Herr Cardinal:

"Your imminence has been good enough together with your letter of August 2, to transmit to the kaiser and king my most gracious master, the note of his holiness, the pope in which his holiness filled with grief at the devastations of the world war makes an emphatic peace appeal to the heads of the belligerent peoples. The kaiser-king has designed to acquaint me with your imminence's letter and to entrust the reply to me.

"His majesty has been following for a considerable time with high respect and sincere gratitude his holiness' efforts in a spirit of true impartiality to alleviate as far as possible the sufferings of the war and to hasten the end of his holiness. The kaiser sees in the latest step of his holiness fresh proof of his noble and humane feelings, and cherishes a lively desire that for the benefit of the entire world the papal appeal may meet with success."

The reply adds that the effort of the pope to pave the way to an understanding might most surely be reckoned to have a sympathetic reception from and the wholehearted support of the German emperor since he has regarded it as his principal and sacred task to preserve the blessings of peace for the German people and the world.

WILL INVESTIGATE WIFE'S DEATH

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 21.—Personal investigation of various rumors in connection with the death of Mrs. Robert W. Bingham will be made by a representative of Judge Bingham, Louisville attorney, former judge of the circuit court and second husband of the widow of Henry M. Flagger, Standard Oil and railroad magnate. Mr. Flagger left her an estate valued at more than $70,000,000.

A statement made today by attorneys for Judge Bingham said that among the matters to be investigated were advices from Wilmington, N. C., where Mrs. Bingham was buried, that her grave is being guarded day and night and that her body would be disinterred and an autopsy performed.

The statement of the attorneys denies a report that Dr. R. M. Ravitch, the physician who attended Mrs. Bingham prior to her last illness had been presented with a fee of $50,000 and an automobile and says he received nothing more than the ordinary fees charged by physicians.

There has been for some time rumors that the contest would be made of a codicil to Mrs. Bingham's will bequeathing $5,000,000 to Judge Bingham.

Judge Bingham, who had been out of the city, returned late today. He referred all inquirers to his counsel.

NEW RUSSIAN CHIEF APPOINTED

PETROGRAD, Sept. 21.—Resignation of General Alexieff as chief of the general staff has been followed by appointment of M. Tichechiloff whose predilections are highly democratic. The immediate motive for the change is not publicly known.

One report is that General Alexieff resigned to free the hands of Premier Kerensky, with whom he consented to take the post on condition that the new cabinet would be a coalition one and which condition Premier Kerensky failed to bring about. Another is that General Alexieff was not in agreement with the Premier regarding the latter's plans for clearing out the higher staff and effecting a general re-organization.

LLOYD-GEORGE MAY VISIT AMERICA

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The visit of a leading British statesman, either Premier Lloyd George, the Earl of Derby, Minister of War or General Smuts to the United States has been under consideration for some time, but difficulties in the way of such a journey virtually preclude it, as they cannot be spared from their duties here. This assurance was made in a statement from an authoritative source today on the suggestion made in the United States that a visit by one of the three men mentioned would be appreciated in the United States for the purpose of counteracting anti-British propaganda.

EDITOR THINKS EARLY PEACE ATTAINABLE

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 21.—Maximilian Harden, editor of Di Kunft lecturing in Berlin yesterday, said he was convinced peace was attainable this year if Germany promises to waive rule of Betsudom. This aroused a hostile demonstration and many persons left the hall. Herr Harden continued:

"Whatever brings us peace, whether Socialists of pope is welcome. Either we must annex Belgium or state openly we never had such intention."

KAISER REGRETS NAVY IS NOT LARGER

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 21.—Max Bower, the German painter describing in the Dusseldorf General Anzeiger his impressions of Emperor William's visit to headquarters mentions an incident when the German ruler expressed regret that his navy was not larger. The emperor quoted Stanley's exclamation on the occasion of the exchange of Helgoland for Zanzibar:

"This is the exchange of a button for a whole suit."

"This button," Emperor William said, "holds the whole suit together."

He continued:

"If my people had not so embittered the first twelve years of my reign in my naval. How Ungen. Richter harrassed poor Soliman, whose plans he scornfully rejected as mere naval hobby. If those gentlemen had only known what one more squadron means on sea they would act today and for all future times quite differently.

"With an army, one can imagine with new formations, but time and far seeing patience are necessary for the creation of a squadron with efficient captains and crews and machinery."

CUBAN SUGAR GROWERS PROTEST

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Protest of Cuban sugar growers against the food administration's agreement with American producers to limit the producers' price to 7 1/2 cents a pound were presented to the food administration tonight by Jose Miguel Tarrats and Jose Ignacio Lezama. They said they feared if this price is forced on the Cuban crop thru the government's import and distribution license power, the 1918 crop will be materially reduced.

They expressed willingness to cooperate however, and a food administration announcement said:

"There is every reason to believe that an entirely satisfactory price to the Cuban planters and the buyers of Cuban sugar will be arrived at."

ARGENTINE WILL BREAK SOON

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 21.—The chamber of deputies late today postponed until tomorrow discussion of the crisis with Germany caused by the unfriendly action of Count Von Luzburg, the dismissed German minister. This postponement was taken after receipt of a statement from Foreign Minister Pueyrredon that the government has received new information which he will present to the congress tomorrow. After a meeting of the ministry it was announced that the government was prepared to take grave and rapid measures in view of certain new developments.

A high government official declared that these measures probably would include an immediate declaration of war against Germany to be followed by the despatch of troops to Europe.

SECRET SERVICE CHIEF IS BUSY OFFICIAL

William J. Flynn Works So Quietly and Unobtrusively That His Name Seldom Appears in Print—Is Terror of Counterfeiters.

Washington, D. C. Sept. 20.—Sitting at his desk in the Treasury Building, or perhaps closeted in conference with some of his subordinates in his private office, is one of the busiest officials in Washington in these stirring times, but who goes about his work so quietly and unobtrusively that his name seldom appears in print.

He is William J. Flynn, Chief of the United States Secret Service, the man who is chiefly charged with the responsibility of hunting down enemy aliens and who, through his many subordinates, in the service keeps a watchful eye on countless anarchists, suspected spies, leaders of the I. W. W., and others whose ill-advised activities and utterances might jeopardize the public safety and welfare.

Chief Flynn is now completing his fifth year as head of the United States Secret Service. It was in December, 1912, that he was appointed to succeed John E. Wilkie in the position. For many years prior to his appointment as Chief he had been in charge of the New York division of the secret service, and at one time he held the position of deputy police commissioner of New York city.

Sheriff of York County.

Chief Flynn is only 48 years old, and has been identified with his present line of business for about 25 years. In 1893 he was a tinsmith in New York City. In the following year Edward Tamson was elected sheriff of New York County and Flynn ceased to be a tinsmith to become a keeper in Ludlow Street jail. That was the beginning of his career which brought him into prominence as a detective.

When Tamson's term expired the New York friends of Flynn got him the position in the Secret Service, and he made good from the start, and soon started to climb higher in the service.

As a secret service agent Flynn became the terror of counterfeiters. Only a week before he was appointed to the head of the service he personally led a raid in the lower part of New York city that uncovered one of the most skillfully operated counterfeiting plants ever confiscated by the Secret Service, and with the plant he captured the men who owned and operated it, and they were making money when he and his men forced their way into the bogus mint.

Worked on Case for Years.

That's the way that Flynn operates. In 1903 an Italian named Benedetto Madonna was murdered in New York. The body was found in a barrel. Flynn identified the body as that of a man who had been miked up in the counterfeiting game, and he knew from the start that Madonna was the victim of a counterfeiting gang, and that he had been murdered because he had proved a traitor to the other criminals. For years Flynn worked on the case—years after the police had stopped working—and in 1910 he arrested the men who he was morally certain committed the crime. He got them for counterfeiting, and they were both sent to the penitentiary, one for thirty and the other for twenty-five years.

While located in New York he was granted leave of absence to accept the position of second deputy police commissioner of the New York Police Department. That job is one of the unpleasant memories of Chief Flynn's long career. He went in with the intention of bringing the New York Detective Bureau up to date, and it is generally admitted he would have succeeded had he been given a free hand and not been interfered with by those whose activities should have been outside the detective bureau.

Chief Flynn is a powerful man physically. He is a man of few words, yet with a big heart, and he's a jovial companion when you don't talk to him about what the Secret Service happens to be doing. He is married and has a household of children. Gardening and baseball are his principal fads.

MILK PRODUCERS MEET.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Milk producers of the Chicago district met here all forenoon without reaching an agreement as to an advance in prices. While a big advance was regarded as certain, it was said to be doubtful whether definite figures would be available before night.

MISSING MAN THOUGHT TO BE HERE.

The police department has received a request to try to ascertain the whereabouts of Chris Welshots of Springfield, who is wanted on account of the critical illness of his father. The family believe he is in this city or vicinity.

INVESTIGATING PRICE COMBINATION

St. Louis, Mo. Sept. 21.—State and federal authorities today began an inquiry into the local milk situation to determine whether there is a price combination between Illinois producers and St. Louis distributors. The circuit attorney issued a subpoena for John B. Rueschoff, head of a local dairy company and United States Attorney Oliver said he also would question Mr. Rueschoff.

ADDRESSES BANKERS

GOOD BYE, BOYS, YOU'RE IN THE BIG SCRAP NOW

SELECTED MEN WILL LEAVE FOR CAMP TAYLOR TODAY.

Forty-Eight of Morgan County's Boys Will Entrain This Afternoon for Louisville—Local Board May Call One Hundred Men For Physical Examinations First of Week to Fill Quota.

If any of the drafted men from this district are down-hearted over the prospect of going to Camp Taylor at Louisville today they failed to show it yesterday when they reported to the board office at the Ayers Bank Building and got their first army orders. Although they will have no uniforms until they arrive at Camp Taylor, when they reported yesterday afternoon they became soldiers.

The men who were given permission to remain at home for the night, were told to report to the office of the board again this afternoon not later than three o'clock. Each boy should bring his luggage to the office of the board not later than that hour in order to avoid confusion at the station. Otto Speth will take a picture of the squad just before they leave for the train.

Orderly William J. Eads.

Orderly Eads will have charge of the men who are to leave Jacksonville today. He will have as assistant Louis Hauck, who will be second in command.

"What shall we take?" was the most general question at the board building yesterday.

"Wear your oldest clothes and take just enough to fit a small bundle or small grip." As a suggestion the men were also told to take hair brushes, tooth brushes, three suits of underwear, three shirts, socks, a mirror, and toilet articles.

Staff No Slacker.

The report has become current in this city and was finally brought to the attention of the district board at Springfield that Byron Graff, son of Sheriff, had failed to register under the draft law either here or at Springfield. The facts of the case are, as shown by reports received Friday from the Adjutant General's office, that Bryan Graff was a non-commissioned officer in the government service at the time the draft went into effect. He was made a sergeant in the quartermasters corps at Springfield on June 2, 1917. Sergeant Graff was informed at that time by the adjutant general that he did not have to register and this is sustained by law.

Prentice Man Arrested.

Howard Robinson of Prentice was arrested Friday afternoon charged with failure to register under the draft law. Mr. Robinson claims his age to be 32 years. Exemption Board Member Haingrove claims that Mr. Robinson's marriage license purchased in 1909 showed his age at that time to be 22 years. As his birthday is in September, he would have been just 29 years of age at the time of registering, the fifth day of last June. He will report to the United States District Marshal at Springfield today.

Another Call Expected.

It was announced at the office of the local exemption board Friday afternoon that there will probably be a call made the first of the week for one hundred men to appear for physical examination. This call may be occasioned at this time to fill any vacancies made in Morgan county's quota of 121 men made by new rulings of the district board at Springfield.

The local board had a sufficient number of men to fill the quota here but in order to modify some of the rulings in regard to married men and make the decisions in the different cases more on an equality with those of surrounding counties in the state, it has been thought best to take this course of action. While the members of the local board feel that they have followed the letter of the law as set forth in government regulations, and in this stand they are supported by Governor Lowden, they believe that if the district board at Springfield is going to be lenient in interpreting the law in regard to other counties through this district, that it would be proper to make a number of exemptions in the present list of men, and draw another hundred or more men for physical examination at once to fill these vacancies. The board members believe they are right in their contention in this matter yet they also think that it would be an injustice to the people of this community not to take advantage of the district board's lenient attitude and act accordingly.

Will Leave At Four O'Clock.

The drafted men who will leave this afternoon on the four o'clock Chicago & Alton train. The special car which will carry the soldiers will be on the switch near the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis R. R. freight house. The police will rope off space for the boys and their relatives and friends.

Four Guests of Government.

Only four of the men drafted from this county were guests of the government at the Douglas Hotel last night. All of the other forty eight sought their own lodgings for the night. Only one man, Devore, failed to report to the exemption board yesterday afternoon. Mr. Devore is ill at a local hospital. His place in the ranks will be filled today by J. P. Johnson, proprietor of the Douglas Hotel. Incidentally Mr. Johnson is the only married man to go in this squad.

GEN. SCOTT RETIRES AFTER LONG ARMY CAREER

Has Reached Age of Statutory Retirement—Has Spent Practically all of Military Life in Cavalry Branch of U. S. Army.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—To few officers of the United States army in recent years has it been the good fortune to leave behind them such a long record of distinguished service as is to be credited to Major General Hugh L. Scott, the present Chief of Staff, who tomorrow reaches the age of statutory retirement.

General Scott was born in Kentucky in 1853 and graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1875. He has spent all of his military life in the cavalry branch, with the exception of the periods when he was engaged in staff or special service.

More closely than any other officer of the army he has been identified with the Indians and the semi-civilized wards of the Government. His interests in these people were not wholly military and professional. Their languages, customs, and religions also interested him, and he made it his business to master the knowledge he desired. This he has done to a surprising extent, so that there are few men in the country better informed on such subjects. His knowledge was obtained at first hand, and this led to friendships with the chiefs and guides of the tribes. They in the course of time came to trust him as they did no other white man; and as a result he came to be the great pacifier, the man who could allay strife by dealing justly.

Adjutant General in Cuba. When the war with Spain began, General Scott went to Cuba as General Ludlow's adjutant general, and after the fighting was over, he was adjutant general to General Wood, commanding the island. From 1898 to the evacuation in 1902 he was General Wood's right-hand man. Higher in rank now, he was as enthusiastic in his study of the Cuban people as he was in the shave-tail days of 1876 on the Northwest plains studying the Indians. And, as General Wood has often remarked much of the success of American administration in the island was due to the thorough understanding of the people possessed by his adjutant.

Then to the Philippines as major of the Third Cavalry went Scott, there again to justify his reputation as "the most able pacifier in the army." Equally apt in pacifying with a machine gun and with sympathetic acts and words, Scott once more demonstrated his many-sidedness. It is given to few men to be able to shoot up a country and make the people like it. Scott is one of the few, for he did that very thing while in the Philippines. Flattering words from the President and the Secretary of War—all spread on the records of the War Department—came to him for the work he accomplished.

In 1915 General Scott, acting under special orders from the President, went to the Mexican border, and, by diplomacy, staves of physicians, and by Mexican and American troops. In the same year he settled the Pinte controversy.

Accomplished Enormous Task. On November 16, 1916, General Scott was named by the President to be Chief of Staff, in succession to Major General W. W. Witherspoon.

Was Condition of Indiana Lady Before Beginning to Take Card-u-i, the Woman's Tonic.

Kokomo, Ind.—Mrs. H. Hankemeier, of this town, says: "I look so well, and am so well, that it does not seem as if I ever needed Cardui. But I was not always this way. I think I have taken a dozen bottles... before my little girl came."

I was feeling dreadfully bad, had headache, backache, sick at my stomach, no energy... I was very irritable, too, and nervous.

I began taking Cardui about 6 months before my baby came. As a result all those bad feelings left me, and I just felt grand, just as if nothing at all was the matter, and when the end came I was hardly sick at all.

Since that I have never taken Cardui at all... It has done me good, and I know it will help others, if they will only try it."

Many women have written grateful letters like the above, telling of the good that Cardui has done them. Why should it not help you, too? If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, and feel the need of a safe, reliable, strengthening tonic, we urge you to begin today and give Cardui a fair trial. who retired on that date on account of age. During the three years that he has filled this highest position in the military service he has been called upon to solve problems of far greater magnitude and importance than any other commander of the army has been obliged to face since the days of the civil war. At the very beginning of his administration it fell to his lot to direct the reorganization of the army in accordance with the plans agreed upon by the military experts. Then came the enormous task of enlarging the military establishment to meet the requirements of the war.

For a brief period General Scott was relieved of the burden of running the army by his assignment to accompany Mr. Root on his mission to Russia. On this trip the Chief of Staff visited the eastern theaters of war and gained an insight at first hand of the modern methods of warfare.

General Scott was in the army for thirty years before the country at large came to know his name. His work was done out of the public eye. But in recent years the reward has come. He is now completing his second detail as head of the army. Of late he has had many perplexing problems to solve, but he has solved each in his own way and to the satisfaction of the Administration.

GIVE THE SOLDIERS A FIGHTING CHANCE

William Wrigley, Jr., Points to Military Training as the Great Essential.

How fortunate it would have been had we adopted universal military training five or ten years ago. It would have meant much in the present crisis—it probably would have kept us out of the war. But it's no use to cry over spilt milk. The question is, what shall we do now? Every thoughtful man must feel that a nation unable to protect itself promptly is blind to the tragic possibilities of its heedlessness. War comes unexpectedly, and, as in our own case, it is sometimes forced upon an "innocent bystander." For three years we submitted to insult and injury, until forbearance ceased to be a virtue and there was nothing left for us but to assert our rights and to defend them. No country in the world hates war more than we do. Only extreme provocation would induce us to take up arms. Experience shows abundantly that a peace-loving nation is not safe because of that fact. Belgium and some of the Balkan states are evidence of it.

Only One Safe Plan. As the world is constituted, and has been through thousands of years of strife, there is only one safe plan, and that is to follow the advice of Washington—in time of peace, prepare for war. If we had done this a few years ago, we would have saved billions of dollars and tens of thousands of lives. It is common knowledge in military circles that trained men, by knowing how to take care of themselves in camp and in the field, reduce the mortality and casualties at least two thirds, and what is more vital; men of special training only can be used in modern warfare.

Nationally, we need a little foresight, a keener appreciation of the necessity for providing for future contingencies. We cut ice in the coldest sort of weather when nobody wants ice, for we know it will be demanded a few months later; so we prepare in mid-winter, for our comforts during the heated period of summer.

Would Safeguard Nation. The plan of universal military training as outlined in the Chamberlain Bill, would make available at all times, millions of young men who have had sufficient military training to enable them to become excellent soldiers with a few weeks of additional training. This would safeguard the nation and prepare it against any contingency that would probably arise, and if one should never arise, the training and discipline would be the very best experience that any young man could have. It would make him stronger physically, more alert mentally, quicker to see and to act. Also, it would increase his earning capacity and give him a better chance to win success in his life work. Our boys appreciate this. I think the majority of them would be glad to take the training.

Some Things Worse Than War. War is a calamity beyond description. We are sorry that any of our young men should be compelled to engage in it, but there are some things worse than war, and one would be to have our country dominated by a foreign power—by a rule of ruthless militarism that counts war as a regular business.

Since the boys may at any time be called upon to defend our country and our flag, we owe it to them to provide them with a careful pre-training so that they may perform this important national function both efficiently and as safely as possible. We must not be asleep at the switch. The responsibility is up to the American citizen and the voters of this country to demand the passage of the Chamberlain Bill or some similar measure by Congress at its next session. It has already been postponed too long. It's time now for action.

CHEMISTRY AND THE WAR. New York, Sept. 21.—The extraordinary strides made by American chemistry in all its branches the last year in preparing the nation for its great war and for the place it must occupy in the world's commerce after the coming of peace will be portrayed at the Third National Exposition of Chemical Industries, which is to be held during the coming week at the Grand Central Palace in this city. In conjunction with the exposition there will be a series of daily conferences in which the participants will include the foremost representatives of the chemistry profession in America.

TAX ON MOTION PICTURE THEATRES OPPOSED

Congressman Rainey Urged to Support Senate Bill Excluding from Taxation Theatres With Admission of Less Than 25 Cents.

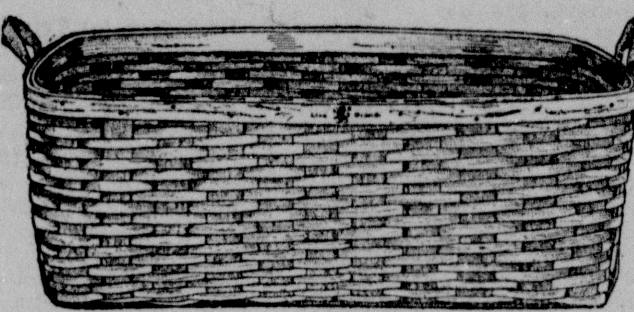

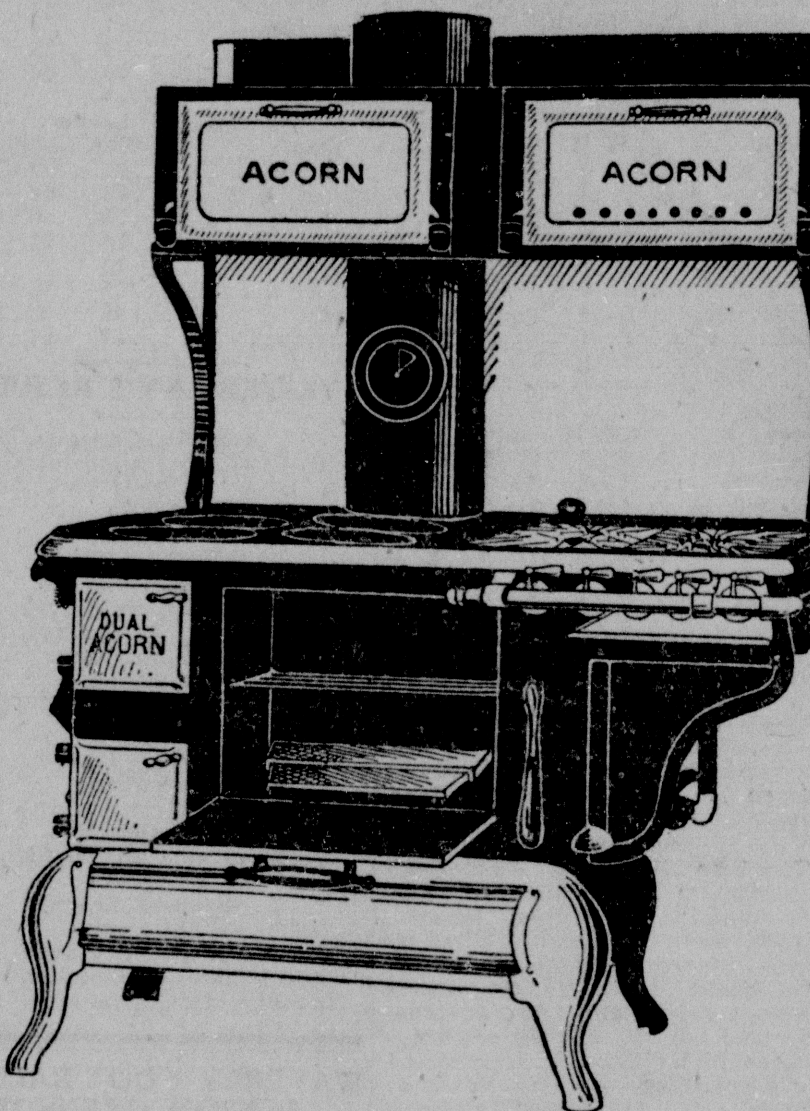

Yesterday G. M. Luttrell received telegrams from the president of National Moving Picture Association and from the president of the Chicago local asking that telegrams be sent to Congressman Rainey urging him to support the senate bill relative to the tax on moving picture theatres.

Last spring when the passage of the war tax bill first came up it embodied a section calling for the payment of one cent by proprietors of moving picture theatres on each ticket sold. There was a nation wide protest on the part of moving picture associations on the tax. It was pointed out that such a tax would put a large percentage of theaters out of business.

After much discussion of the section and gathering of evidence the bill was amended by the senate to exclude all theaters charging an admission of less than twenty-five cents. However, it became known recently that congress intended to again write the section into the bill. Mr. Luttrell is president of the Illinois Moving Picture Association and yesterday said that he was not informed as to whether it was the intention to write the old tax of one cent on each ticket, or to make it more reasonable. It is probable that a vigorous protest will be made by moving picture theaters all over the United States as a large percent of them will be hit by the law if it goes thru.

ITALIANS' DAY TO CELEBRATE.
New York, Sept. 20.—Italians the world over, and especially in the United States, will celebrate with unusual fervor today the great anniversary of Italian union and liberty under a native royal house. The day marks the forty seventh anniversary of the entry of the king of Italy's troops into Rome. ## ANNIVERSARY OF PAOLI

West Chester, Pa., Sept. 20.—Exercises have been arranged to take place this afternoon on the monument grounds near Malvern in commemoration of the 140th anniversary of the Massacre of Paoli.

It was on the night of Sept. 20, 1777, that the troops commanded by General Anthony Wayne, following the retreat from the battle of Brandywine, were surprised by the British general, afterwards known as "Flintless" Gray. The British commander forbade his men to fire a shot, and to make sure of it, took away their flints, whence came his nickname "Flintless."

The night was intensely dark, and the Hessians fell upon the Americans without warning, and bayoneted them. Only the military genius of General Wayne prevented the destruction of the entire body of troops. During the remainder of the Revolution the battles which fired the hearts and strengthened the arms of the patriots was "Remember Paoli."

FATTEN EARLY PIGS IS ADVICE GIVEN

First Fall Markets are the Highest—Pastures and Grain Forages Give Economical Results.

The Weekly News Letter of the Agricultural department of the government has the following:

Pigs which were farrowed early and are about six months old at this time may profitably be finished now and rushed off to market, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The early fall market has been the highest market for a number of years, because the number of well-finished hogs arriving at this season is limited.

Pigs may be fattened quickly and cheaply on nutritious pasture when supplemented by a full grain ration. After deducting the pork which would have been produced by the same amount of grain fed in dry lot, every acre of these pastures produces from three to six hundred pounds of pork. The full fattening power of the grain is realized as well as a profit on the pasture consumed.

Pastures to Use.

In the corn belt and Eastern states alfalfa, clover and rape give best results. Pigs should be continued on these feeds until fat, usually for a period of six weeks at least. Alfalfa and clover may be pastured as long as forage is required, and they will produce the largest gains due to pasture. An acre of alfalfa furnishes pasture for fourteen to sixteen 150-pound hogs during this short fattening season, while clover will carry from three to four hogs less per acre. Rape is an excellent forage, and altho it does not produce as much pork per acre as the two legumes previously mentioned, it returns very good profits for the trouble and expense of planting the crop. It affords pasture for a period of four to six weeks for ten to twelve 150-pound hogs per acre.

Methods of Feeding.

If the pigs are hand fed it will pay to go slow the first week and gradually get them on full feed. After they are accustomed to the method of feeding, they may be pushed along as rapidly as possible without much danger from loss of appetite. Even on leguminous pasture some protein supplement, such as tankage, should be fed with the grain in the proportion of one part of tankage to ten or fifteen parts of grain. A daily ration equal to 4 per cent or 4.5 per cent of the live weight is the maximum amount of grain that a pig will consume.

The self-feeding method is a very efficient system of feeding during this period, and produces results equal to, or better than, those obtained by hand feeding. Grain is consumed more rapidly and economically, causing the pig to attain a marketable weight in a shorter time and with a smaller amount of grain.

Fattening Pigs in the South.

By the use of several of the summer forage crops of the South pigs can be grown cheaply and come to the fattening period growthy, healthy shotes, ready to make rapid and economical gains upon rich foods.

For fattening at this early season use should be made of the grain-pasture crops, soy beans, and cowpeas, and of early sown sweet potatoes. These crops will fatten hogs quickly and require only a small amount of grain to give good results.

On fairly rich soil, soy beans will produce more feed than the other forages. Each acre will afford pasture for ten 150-pound shotes for six or seven weeks. In order to insure against the production of an inferior soft pork, a one-third corn ration should be fed in connection with the soy-bean pasture, especially during the latter part of the fattening period, and when such a system is followed each acre of soy beans will produce from four to seven hundred pounds of pork.

Cowpeas succeed better on poor soils than do soy beans, but their value as a pork producing crop is much less. Fully twice as much grain must be fed with cowpea pasture as was recommended in the case of soy beans in order to obtain equally rapid and heavy gains. When a one-third grain ration is fed in connection with cowpea forage one acre will carry eight shotes from four to five weeks, and the pork-producing power will be correspondingly reduced under that estimated for soy beans.

The southern farmer is familiar with the culture of sweet potatoes. They may be used to very good advantage in the production of pork. The pigs do their own harvesting, and when a high protein supplement such as soy bean meal, or tankage is fed in addition in order to balance the ration, one acre will produce from four to eight hundred pounds of pork in a four weeks' grazing period, depending upon the yield of potatoes.

C. R. Evans of Alexander was a city visitor yesterday.

WOMAN FACES TRIAL
ON MURDER CHARGE

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 21.—The district attorney is getting together his witnesses and completing other details of preparation for the trial of Mrs. Mary Kreiser, Kansas City society woman, who is to be arraigned in court Monday to answer to a charge of having murdered her husband, Edward Kreiser, noted church organist and composer. Owing to the social prominence of the accused woman and the circumstances surrounding the alleged murder the trial is expected to be one of the most notable that has taken place in the criminal courts here in many years. Mrs. Kreiser shot and killed her husband in their home in Kansas City on March 3, last. In defense of her act the woman claimed she had been driven to frenzy by her husband's admissions of his intimate relations with other women. Since the preliminary hearing of the case Mrs. Kreiser has been at liberty under a $15,000 bond signed by several of the most prominent and influential citizens of Kansas City.
